To Whom It May Concern:

We urge the FCC to grant the Kristin Brooks Hope Center Application for Review and return the toll free hotline numbers to KBHC promptly. If necessary to accomplish that, we support a temporary extension of the 12 month temporary re-assignment.

I lost a friend to suicide in December 2007. He was a bright and caring person. In the brief time since, out of respect for him and other victims I have begun to volunteer for organizations like Hopeline: 1-800-SUICIDE. No government agency could do what these people do with half as compassion and understanding.

I feel strongly about the privacy issues and do not believe the federal government should own and or control the nation's suicide hotline. It should not be taken unfairly against the founders will.

Thank you,
